For Immediate Release

Lancaster, Pa. - Barley Snyder's partnership has announced that it has voted to approve Lancaster County resident Matthew Hennesy for partnership at the firm. The move became effective Jan. 1.

Matthew is a litigator concentrating his practice in commercial, construction and intellectual property litigation matters. He joined the firm in 2010 out of the University of Miami School of Law and attorney ranking organization "Super Lawyers" has recognized him as a "Pennsylvania Rising Star" in both 2016 and 2017.

He's a member of the board of directors of the Long's Park Amphitheater Foundation, a board member of the Lancaster YMCA Foundation and a former board member of the Friends of the Lancaster Public Library.

"I'm honored that the firm has invited me into the partnership," Hennesy said. "Barley Snyder is an outstanding law firm and it's rewarding to work with such a great group of attorneys and staff every day."

The Chester County native now lives in Mountville with his wife and three children.

"Matt has been an asset to the firm since the moment he got here," Barley Snyder managing partner Jeff Lobach said. "He has become a critical member of our rapidly growing litigation practice and adds a great diversity of skills and experience. Matt is adept at meeting short deadlines and advancing our clients' interests in and out of court."
