

Barley Snyder Hires Three New Professionals

PUBLISHED ON
August 3, 2021

For Immediate Release

Lancaster, Pa. - As Barley Snyder's client base and workload continues to increase, the firm has added additional attorneys and staff to its growing roster of professionals.

Ambria Armstrong joined the firm on Aug. 2 as part of the firm's Business Practice Group. She is an experienced mergers and acquisitions attorney and is a graduate of William & Mary Law School. Ambria is also a former summer associate at Barley Snyder.

"My early time at Barley Snyder taught me how professional attorneys go above and beyond to do the best thing for their client, and that experience helped me become the attorney I aspire to be every day," Armstrong said. "I'm very happy to return to Barley as an attorney."

Josh Strickland is a paralegal with nearly five years of legal experience after he graduated from Franklin & Marshall College. He joined the firm July 19, and is working in the firm's Immigration Practice Group.

Cheryl A. Myers is a paralegal with nearly two decades of legal experience that she will use in the Barley Snyder Litigation Practice Group and the Health Care Industry Group. Cheryl started at the firm on July 26.

"These three new professionals epitomize the types of people we are looking to add at the firm," Barley Snyder managing partner Jeff Lobach said. "They bring with them a mix of experience and also youthful exuberance with a willingness to learn and grow their craft."

Lobach added the firm's immediate growth isn't complete, as it plans to announce three more attorney hires in the fall.
