Lancaster, Pa. - Barley Snyder is pleased to announce that partner Maria Di Stravolo Elliott has been named to the board of directors at Venture Lititz, a nonprofit, nationally accredited Main Street Program.

Venture Lititz is powered by dedicated volunteers, a full-time executive director and an engaged board of directors, all dedicated to making downtown Lititz a dynamic business environment, a welcoming tourism destination and a thriving community to live in. It works to sustain local businesses and our community's quality of life through economic development, business recruitment and retention, beautification projects, community cleanups, and historic preservation and advocacy.

Di Stravolo Elliott is a resident of Lititz and an active advocate for its continued standing as one of Lancaster County's most popular destinations.

"Lititz has been a great place to raise my family, and I want to ensure future generations can find the same love of Lititz that I have," she said. "It's such an active town where businesses can succeed, families can feel safe and tourists come from hundreds of miles away just to visit. I'm proud to be part of an organization that keeps Lititz moving forward."

Di Stravolo Elliott is the chair of the Barley Snyder Real Estate, Municipal and Environmental Practice Group. She is also secretary and a member of the board of directors at the Lititz Regional Community Development Corporation and volunteers at St. James Catholic Church in Lititz. In 2019, she also became a member of the Lancaster Chamber's Annual Dinner Advisory Group.
